

Extraordinary Living at Michigan Masonic Home

Our Story

AT MICHIGAN MASONIC HOME

WELCOME TO EXTRAORDINARY LIVING

The Masonic Home was founded by Michigan Mason John D. Jennings of Grand Rapids. A true visionary of the late 1880s, Brother Jennings recognized a need within the Masonic fraternity for a friendly and caring environment where Masons could receive excellent care during their retirement years.

In late 1885 the Michigan Masonic Home Association was formed. Two years later, 112 acres of land adjoining Reed's Lake in Grand Rapids was purchased, and in 1891 the first Michigan Masonic Home was formally dedicated.

In February 1910 a fire destroyed the Grand Rapids home. While no lives were lost, the decision of where to rebuild needed to be made. During this time a surprising offer came from Alma native Ammi W. Wright, who generously offered the Grand Lodge of Michigan sixty acres of land along with the Alma Sanitarium for the sum of one dollar! There have been many changes since the Masonic Home moved to Alma in 1912, yet we continue to carry on the vision of John Jennings.

For more than 100 years, Michigan Masonic Home has been brightening the lives of countless senior citizens and their families. This trusted Masonic resource is a not-for-profit Continuing Care Retirement Community (CCRC) offering independent and assisted living, short-stay rehabilitation, ventilator dependent care, skilled nursing, and memory care services to over 200 residents, including Masons and non-Masons.
